Orphan Trains. The orphan trains are among the most famous episodes in adoption history. Between 1854 and 1929, as many as 250,000 children from New York and other Eastern cities were sent by train to towns in midwestern and western states, as well as Canada and Mexico. Families interested in the orphans showed up to look them over when they were placed on display in local train stations, and placements were frequently made with little or no investigation or oversight.

The Orphan Train Movement in the United States

The Orphan Train movement was an effort to transport orphaned or abandoned children from cities on the United States East Coast to homes in the newly settled Midwest. The movement was created in 1853 by Protestant minister Charles Loring Brace, founder of the Children ' s Aid Society of New York City. The orphan trains ran from 1854 to 1929, delivering an estimated 250,000 orphaned or abandoned children to new homes.
